Dr. James Giordano: Battlescape Brain: Military and Intelligence Use of Neurocognitive Science

This presentation is part of the 'Brain Science and Effective Leadership Series,' hosted by the Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership. Dr. Girordano is with the Georgetown University Departments of Neurology and Biochemistry, working in the Neuroethics Study Program, which is a part of the Program in Military Medical Ethics. He also is a Fellow of the Program in Biosecurity, Technology, and Ethics at the Naval War College. In this invigorating and, at points chilling, talk he discusses various potential uses of neurocognitive science in military and intelligence operations, and sketches ethical issues, and angles of analysis that will arise as both allies and adversaries develop such tools, relating them to existing laws of war and conventions.

Theodore McCarrick

McCarrick was a former Catholic cardinal and Archbishop of Washington, D.C. He was removed from ministry after credible allegations that he sexually abused minors and adult seminarians. In 2019, he was dismissed from the clerical state (defrocked), becoming the highest-ranking Catholic official in modern times to receive that penalty for sexual abuse.

Regarding the connections you mentioned:

- George W. Bush: McCarrick was well connected in Washington and interacted with presidents and senior government officials from both parties. President George W. Bush attended a private dinner at McCarrick's residence shortly after Bush took office in 2001, reflecting McCarrick's status as a prominent religious and diplomatic figure at the time.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Total_Information_Awareness

Not to be confused with the fictional system portrayed in The Last Enemy (TV series).

Total Information Awareness (TIA) was a mass detection program[clarification needed] by the United States Information Awareness Office. It operated under this title from February to May 2003 before being renamed Terrorism Information Awareness.[1][2]

Based on the concept of predictive policing, TIA was meant to correlate detailed information about people in order to anticipate and prevent terrorist incidents before execution.[3] The program modeled specific information sets in the hunt for terrorists around the globe.[4] Admiral John Poindexter called it a "Manhattan Project for counter-terrorism".[5] According to Senator Ron Wyden, TIA was the "biggest surveillance program in the history of the United States".[6]

Congress defunded the Information Awareness Office in late 2003 after media reports criticized the government for attempting to establish "Total Information Awareness" over all citizens.[7][8][9]

Although the program was formally suspended, other government agencies later adopted some of its software with only superficial changes. TIA's core architecture continued development under the code name "Basketball". According to a 2012 New York Times article, TIA's legacy was "quietly thriving" at the National Security Agency (NSA).[10]

Program synopsis [edit]

When neuroscience leads to neuroweapons

In general, the universal prohibition on biological weapons is widely supported, and there is healthy concern over how dual-use technologies—those with both beneficial and dangerous applications—might threaten it. The upcoming Eighth Review Conference of the Biological and Toxin

Weapons Convention (BTWC), in November will tackle this concern, as have individual countries. The German Ethics Council issued a 2014 report recommending legal regulation of worrisome dual-use biological research, and in 2016, the US National Science Advisory Board for Biosecurity published recommendations on the risks and benefits of so-called “gain of function” research, which aims to identify how pathogens evolve by forcing genetic changes that sometimes make them more dangerous.

Ray Kruzweil (he’s a close Bush ally) predicts our intelligence will increase by a million fold around 2045 because of merging with BCIs and Artificial superintelligence Possible route from AGI to ASI and how to analyze societies and build weapons from one’s own home and team and how society will have to deal with that kind of ability by criminal actors, both state and non-state actors to build alot of highly damaging weapons.

If you think about it, you have to find the nerve endings where your hippocampus inputs and outputs memories, and if you put nanowires or very fine wires to those areas, then download information to that chip under the brain, and the information gets transferred into the hippocampus, possibly by using a hippocampus chip to replace the memory structures or the hippocampus itself, then we might give photographic memory to humans, by downloading the images and videos directly and transferring them to such hippocampal areas. We have to test on rats, which is relatively easier than humans. Then we can scale to humans. Or you can replace the hippocampus directly and just put the chip on the neocortex, then put nanowires or such wires to from the chip to the different areas of the neocortex, since if thats where presumably the memories form. Then try to upgrade the chip to allow downloads to it. One is understanding what the brain does precisely. Having neural level precision to attach the wires to, and having a surgically precise robot, which seems more likely given the labour needed to move each wire, then it has to find each area precisely and connect the wires there.

https://www.theguardian.com/technology/article/2024/jun/29/ray-kurzweil-google-ai-the-singularity-is-nearer

Imagine a robot with Artificial super intelligence. If we can build millions of such robots with their ability to process huge amounts of logical information like Chatgpt, except at a genius level, imagine the ability to output a bachelors level essay within a few minutes with A+ grades. Then imagine this superintelligent ASI, which is built by AGI first, then asking AGI how to improve itself to become smarter and improving the coding automatically and so on, self-recursively and using evolutionary algorithms to get the best outputs for different coding scenarios. Then this ASI, can achieve a Erdos-level problem within one day or month of computing it by itself, since already with a professional mathematician we can solve Erdos problems by Chatgpt, which has not really reached AGI, and took those mathematicians sometime like 2 years to weeks or so to solve certain Erdos-level math problems, which would take normal mathematicians years to solve, if they were of a high enough caliber. Then if we had millions of such robots (you can ask chatgpt what are the possibilities of such an intelligence explosion), we can solve Erdos level problems within one day or months, except 1 million Erdos-level problems per month, that would be more than all mathematical theorems of that level from the start of human history, or something similar, within a few months or less.

AGI is the critical stepping stone before ASI, as you can have a robot thinking as clever as a expert mathematician at thousands of times faster speed, then you can start to build a plan to build ASI step by step and gather the required materials, team, and how to build the code, and so on. This is important, as giving the general populace the ability to have ASI means ability to ask how to build brain chips to improve our intelligence by many many times, ability to find which politician is lying to us, find what are the loopholes in the law allowing this or that weapon to exist, find how to prove or disprove such neuroweapons claims by such individuals, and ability to build highly precise mind readers and nervous system controllers by working as a team then exposing all that information to the public for a public discussion as to how dangerous these weapons are and how we as a society should handle such misuses and ethically use them.

Yes.

In fact one can prove something slightly stronger.

Fix any constant $0 < \delta < \log 2$. Then for every primitive set $A \subset [x, \infty)$,

$$\sum_{a \in A} \frac{1}{a(\log a - \delta)} \leq 1 + O_\delta\left(\frac{1}{\log x}\right) \qquad (x \to \infty).$$

Since

$$\frac{1}{a \log a} \leq \frac{1}{a(\log a - \delta)},$$

this immediately gives

$$\sum_{a \in A} \frac{1}{a \log a} \leq 1 + o(1).$$

For years, the AI/ LLM critics had the same reasoning: LLMs don't reason and they just predict the next token

Recently, it reasoned better than 50 years of mathematicians on an open erdos problems by applying a basic phd leve formula

This is the planar unit distance problem, first posed by Paul Erdős in 1946. It is one of the best-known questions in combinatorial geometry, easy to state and remarkably difficult to resolve.

https://youtu.be/2Zp8nHYegqI?t=1250

Dr James Giordano is with the Georgetown University Departments of Neurology and Biochemistry, admits the military understands and is clearly focused on building superintelligent soldiers. It takes one Newton to create building upon 30-60 geniuses to extremely intelligent individuals, notable enough to enter into the registry of world history for their accomplishments (if you ask an AI LLM, make an educated estimate of how many geniuses or scholars it took as "steps" to allow Newton to have the cognitive foundations and concepts to build Newtonian theory of physics). Imagine China with about a million soldiers, if they kept about 100,000 in a secret area and implanted them with such intelligence and photographic memory, that would be 3000 to 1500 times as many individuals within a year with artificial superintelligence or artifical general intelligence smarter than Chatgpt or Grok etc. The publicly available AI LLMs are presently able to solve Erdos-level problems in mathematics. These problems can't even be solved more than once or more by almost all professional mathematicians on earth, and only a select few highly talented mathematicians can solve one or two after years of work.

How a worldwide satellite constellation can hide their true function relatively easily from normal citizens even if they use legal means to try to find what the satellites are doing

Public satellite registries do not reveal everything. Under the UN Registration Convention, states report basic info: launching state, registration number, launch details, orbit parameters, and "general function." They do not have to disclose payload design, sensors, software, encryption, or tasking.
Source: UN Registration Convention, Arts. II–IV.

In the U.S., FOIA does not guarantee access to classified satellite details. EO 13526 allows national-security classification, and FOIA Exemption 1 allows agencies to withhold properly classified national-defense or foreign-policy information.
Sources: EO 13526 §§1.1, 1.4; 5 U.S.C. §552(b)(1).

So no, the public cannot "totally expose" all satellite operations through legal requests. Even lawsuits can hit the state-secrets privilege. This creates a real accountability gap that could be abused—but the law also says classification may not be used to conceal violations of law.
Sources: EO 13526 §1.7; Cornell LII, State Secrets Privilege.

Abstract

This paper is an investigative and analytical essay examining the relationship between conspiracy allegations, classified technologies, the Epstein files, and public discussions surrounding Havana Syndrome. It explores how claims involving radio-frequency interference, psychological control, and directed-energy technologies are framed in relation to government documents, media reports, and scientific debates. The paper does not claim to verify all allegations but analyzes how dismissed conspiracy narratives may intersect with emerging security and technological concerns.

Bush admits he will be dead before the objective historians appear on CNN (Presently, Bush Jr is 79 years old in 2026, so he may live roughly 10-20 years more. Which means whatever is known to I estimate a few million or so people now, meaning around 100,000 to 1 million people targeted individuals worldwide, most are not affected by DEWs controlling their nervous system and brain and mind reading them, will not be fully accepted by 8 billion people presently because their intelligence is not sufficient to allow enough time to analyze so much data, there are still institutional and political and criminal obstacles to allow the information from being fully exposed, the understanding of what is merely conspiratorial versus truth, like what many people suspected about pedophilia after the Pizzagate leaks and the mass exposes happening now and with two deaths (as known widely): Jeffrey Epstein and Victoria Giuffre. And that world leaders involved with such sadistic atrocities worldwide are not going to be easily brought to justice.

Medical tests that can detect abnormal nerve activity within one’s body to prove there is an external source affecting one’s nervous system beyond one’s control

Nerve Conduction Study (NCS/NCV)
Measures how fast electrical signals travel through your peripheral nerves. Can show nerve damage, irritation, or abnormal nerve conduction.

Electromyography (EMG)
Measures electrical activity in muscles caused by nerve signals. Can detect involuntary nerve-driven muscle activation, twitching, spasms, or nerve injury.

Electroencephalogram (EEG)
Measures electrical activity of the brain. Can detect abnormal brain activity, seizures, or unusual neural firing patterns.

Evoked Potentials (SSEP, VEP, BAEP)
Tests how signals travel through sensory pathways from the body, eyes, or ears to the brain. Can detect abnormal signal transmission in the nervous system.

Autonomic Nervous System Testing (QSART, Tilt Table, HRV)
Measures nerves that control sweating, heart rate, blood pressure, and other automatic functions. Can show abnormal autonomic nerve activity.

Skin Biopsy (Small Fiber Neuropathy Test)
Examines tiny sensory nerve fibers in the skin. Can detect damage that standard nerve tests may miss.

Functional MRI (fMRI)
Measures changes in brain activity and blood flow during tasks. Can show which brain regions are active, but cannot determine whether an external source caused the activity.

Magnetoencephalography (MEG)
Measures the brain's magnetic fields produced by nerve activity. Provides very detailed mapping of neural activity.

How long it took for slavery to be defeated

Unfortunately, Wilberforce's exemplary efforts to remove slavery to remove such an evil force has now failed

- William Wilberforce's campaign: Began publicly in Parliament around 1787 and achieved the Slave Trade Act (1807) after about 20 years. Slavery itself in most of the British Empire was abolished with the Slavery Abolition Act (1833), about 46 years after he began the campaign. Wilberforce died three days after learning the bill would pass.

- Modern slavery today: The latest joint estimate from the ILO, IOM, and Walk Free Foundation is about 50 million people living in modern slavery (forced labor + forced marriage).

- Roman Empire in Jesus' time: The Roman Empire's population was roughly 50–70 million, with perhaps 5–10 million slaves (estimates vary widely by period and region).

- Comparison: The number of people estimated to be in modern slavery today (~50 million) is roughly comparable to the entire population of the Roman Empire in the time of Jesus, and many times greater than the estimated number of slaves in the Roman Empire.

- Legal status today: Every UN member state formally prohibits slavery de jure (in law), but de facto (in practice) forced labor, human trafficking, debt bondage, forced marriage, and slave-like conditions still exist in many countries.

- Key takeaway: Humanity has largely won the legal battle against slavery, but not the practical one. Slavery is universally condemned in law yet persists on a massive scale through criminal networks, corruption, weak enforcement, conflict zones, and labor exploitation.

Imagine 2045, imagine chatgpt can write a phd in about 15 minutes with the right uploaded documents using the subscription model. Then 20 years later, if we can connect an implant wireless and the nanowires connecting the relevant areas of the brain to increase intelligence, e.g. parietal lobes to frontal lobes to remove the weaker connected nerve connections and replaced with speed of light nanowires (thats 100 m/s VS 300,000 km/s difference in speed), but as Elon predicts well, a surgical robot is necessary because of the fine placement of the wires to the right nerve endings requires high precision, using a microscope, and would be more efficient if the process were easily automated, meaning the endings and placements can be done relatively step by step using a similar protocol each time and cause a huge increase in photographic memories and the abilities to connect the different brain areas involved with very high IQ individuals (e.g. Einstein and Karl Gauss (most famous mathematicians ever lived)'s brains are preserved fully for full brain scans to find the connections of their brains. Then we connect the nanowires between those areas within rat models first, then monkey models, and then possibly some small scale trials on humans within some limiits, then seeing how successful they are, it can achieve superintelligent within humans after some amount of testing, experimentation, costing millions, possibly years to decades, writing secret reports and doing this within a secret facilities and possibly some trial and error, this is definitely a feasible project map towards finding how to build competitive companies to neuralink to build superintelligent humans.

History shows the use of directed energy weapons or EMF long-range devices on others to manipulate their nervous system or cause nervous system damage or trying to read minds has been investigated with and tried for decades:
Zersetzung (famous East German Stashi cases where their communist government used x-ray devices to shoot imprisoned dissidents or civilians to kill them at an earlier age)
Moscow Signal (another famous incident by Moscow soldiers or secret police on US or their allies within Moscow to cause health problems using such EMF devices)
Havana syndrome (2018)
Microwave frey effect (1961 discovery by a US scientist)
Most of these incidents are decades old. Imagine if DARPA had the internet 30 years before the public had it at large, thus, once can imagine the technologies appearing today, which i found have been happening since 2000s or so, are now starting to appear slowly out in the public. However, due to the worldwide nature and the total collection of mental information of billions around the world without their consent and the torture of thousands of people illegally, it causes a major problem within society how to deal with compensation, legal punishment, and removal and accountability of such people and technology.

31. How to prove there are directed energy weapons hitting my nervous system

What you want to prove	Best medical tests	What they can show	Limitation
Peripheral nerves are damaged or conducting abnormally	Nerve conduction study / NCV	Measures how fast and how well electrical signals move along nerves; damaged nerves can show slower or weaker signals. MedlinePlus +1	Shows nerve dysfunction, not who caused it.
Muscles are being activated abnormally by nerve signals	Needle EMG or sometimes surface EMG	EMG records abnormal electrical activity in muscle at rest or during use, and helps distinguish nerve vs muscle problems. MedlinePlus	It records muscle response, not the external source of activation.
Involuntary twitching, spasms, fasciculations, myokymia, neuromyotonia	EMG during symptoms, possibly prolonged or repeated testing	Can capture abnormal spontaneous motor-unit activity if it occurs during the test. MedlinePlus	A normal EMG between attacks does not rule out intermittent symptoms.
Brain electrical events such as seizures or abnormal cortical activity	EEG, preferably ambulatory EEG if episodes are intermittent	Can document abnormal brain electrical activity.	EEG tests brain activity, not peripheral nerves specifically.
Sensory pathways are abnormal	Somatosensory evoked potentials, visual/auditory evoked potentials if symptoms fit	Tests signal conduction through sensory pathways.	Can localize dysfunction but not prove an attacker.
Small-fiber nerve problems: burning, stinging, electric pain, temperature/pain abnormalities	Skin biopsy for intraepidermal nerve fiber density, quantitative sensory testing, autonomic tests	Can support small-fiber neuropathy when standard NCS is normal.	Small fibers are hard to test; results still do not prove cause.
Autonomic nerve activation: sweating, heart-rate/blood-pressure instability, flushing	Autonomic reflex screen, QSART, tilt-table test, heart-rate variability	Can show dysautonomia or abnormal autonomic function.	These involve nerves controlling organs, so they may not match your "nerves only" requirement.

Ask for a referral to a neurologist who does electrodiagnostic medicine. Use neutral, testable language:

> “I am having involuntary sensations/twitching/electric-shock sensations. I want objective testing for peripheral nerve dysfunction or abnormal motor-unit activity: NCS/EMG, and if normal but symptoms persist, small-fiber neuropathy and autonomic testing.”

32. Part of the Cold War is the battle between Russia, China and North Korea VS America and Nato. Presently, Putin is mind controlled by the US-NATO-coalition with other various states in an inverted totalitarian world government using long-range directed energy weapons. Apparently, MAD as a way to achieve peace can only last long as the vulnerabilities would sooner or later appear. One big vulnerability is the ability for a state to build a superintelligent computer, and how will each side of the cold war control the build up of such a superintelligent computer and BCIs to connect humans to that computer to create a superintelligent hive mind? By whatever reason, US-NATO and their allies managed to first strike Russia and their allies and that is why you can see Putin is nervous, fidgeting, tight in his body language, and not very relaxed or confident compared to 2018 or before.

Search for google, you will find many new articles showing they are openly admitting they want to build such brain implants to increase intelligence for the militaries in many different areas. If John Von Neumann and LL Good in the 1950s could foresee the power of superintelligence in a miltiary, imagine how far they are now with all their Nobel level intellect.
For the core intellectual chain that made Newtonian physics possible, I would estimate roughly 30–60 extraordinary minds, with perhaps 15–25 absolutely central figures.

The central line would include people like Aristotle, Euclid, Archimedes, Hipparchus, Ptolemy, John Philoponus, Ibn al-Haytham, al-Biruni, Buridan, Oresme, Copernicus, Tycho Brahe, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Fermat, Pascal, Huygens, Hooke, Halley, Leibniz, and Newton.

So it took about 30-60 genius level intellects for humanity to reach Newtonian physics. That took roughly 2000 years. Then the next step was quantum mechanics, which took about 300 years. Imagine that took 100 or so genius level researchers. Now imagine, if there are 10,000 to 100,000 people implanted with extreme intelligence and photographic memory, they will be able to likely achieve even more within a short span of time compared to 300 years.

Disclaimer: it is unlikely for schizophrenia or delusional disorders to appear after yours 20s, thus, given the hundreds of people with similar problems appearing over and over, its unlikely this is merely a psychological disorder, which can easily be used as a label to label "undesirables" or certain dissidents or whoever the elite want to be murdered to be seen as merely a mentally ill person when you can interview many of these people personally and ask your congress person directly about a huge amount of evidence given, and if they dont answer with clarity, you know they are hiding something, because its easy to use the excuse "national security" then where's the accountability for that? Can we just build a torture chamber for young children and say that's under national security like Gaddafi did with his torture chambers well exposed in the Guardian. US used a secret sonic weapon using a microwave directed energy on Venezeluan soldiers

Why double agents exist to spread disinformation to confuse the general public that such torture is happening

There are many double agents even within the whistleblower and such individuals who expose such information such as what i am exposing. One way to tell who is real is who is really hit in their nervous system with microwaves or EMF or MASER directed energy weapons that can manipulate their nerve cell functioning, e.g., activate, deactivate the nerves precisely and manipulate their muscular motions and bodily functions such as breathing, heart rate, and so on. Such people who died telling such information have a high chance of giving good information although some are involved within the conspiracy circles who happened on the right information, which is why after a certain period of time they died in “mysterious circumstances”. This is how to confuse people, because you are mixing in wild conspiratorial claims with real evidence (medical tests, examinations, and so on), trends, motivations, new reports, and testimonies. Also be wary of the newer people coming onto the scene. The people who died and are suffering in front of you are likely telling truths, but understand as well, we dont all have the full picture only pieces of what is happening because:1) if you tell the whole truth and point out all the world leaders and top elites involved, you have a high chance of being murdered or tortured to death, 2) some of these people are shocked they entered into such a situation from nowhere, they never expected this a democratic republic and so on who claims they protect rights and fought for rights would allow such blatant and public hidden-in-plain-sight “open secrets” type of torture in from of people while they suffer in secret, 3) these people are not told the full picture or explanation as people attack them, so they have to learn from the internet or some are already conspiratorial, so they use that data.

Journal article with some superficial details about how the system may work, roughly works.

How many he interviewed or found that were tortured and classified them accordign to age, year torture began, and so forth.

More than 130 females and 166 males.

71% of all victims had a college degre.

13% went for a master or doctor degree.

nobody gets schizophrenia not 50s, they usually get it by 30s

This technology does exist, these programs do exist, its hard to imagine why a person do something like this, if you think about the new type of warfare, cognitive warfare

You dont have to kill them, you can degrade their brain, alter their minds, personalities, its like Chinese torture

You cant ignore it because its happening all the time you are awake

35. Robert Duncan exposes alot of secret CIA information regarding what is happening with neuroweapons and people worldwide

https://youtu.be/MNuNs6RsRdU?t=149
Admits US gov is not just using surveillance and technologies to capture criminals and fight US enemies
Doing amoral activities
TI complaining what expected from BCIs technologies
In DARPA, oh my gosh, this is my work they are using the harm people Around 2000, TIs attacks starting
MK-ultra on steroids, same tactics of mind control, to break down human will, create Manchurian candidates to eliminate the target,
He did voice morphing, AI for tracking Russian subs, robotic surgery
DOD whistleblower
He lost faith with the US gov, Senate intelligence committee, we never heard of MK Ultra
Why the secrecy, most humans want to do good, feel patriotic, if knew truth the you wouldnt do their job, they are fooling the people working for the US gov, only few at the top really know the whole truth
Why MK Ultra now worldwide, saying same experiences
He did 2000 interviews, he said they mostly sound alike in their stories, doesnt matter your educational level, language, they are using 7-8 scripts
Its a worldwide weapon, you cant put electronic defenses around tax-based borders
Its intended to be worldwide for the NWO gov, Bush Sr talked about NWO, he was head of CIA, Biden said NWO is utmost importance
It doesnt matter which candidate you vote for, they want a global takeover
We arent in the NWO presently because all military tech will eventually seep into the police force
We are middle of the transition of NWO
They have 4 countries left to take over, China Russia Iraq NK, then rest of the world is kinda nothing (implied easy to conquer)
Why would you want democracy because of mind control weapons, we can control who gets into power
CIA interest, like say Trump or Jesse Ventura, as soon as Ventura when he got in office, CIA asked him how did you get elected, you were not supposed to win, curious why voting models
Wait, i thought CIA knew everything, but sometimes they get it wrong, and want to learn
Give illusion of democracy and freedom that your vote counts but not allow it to happen in terms of global events
And they control it through the media
US has connected to other countries' intelligence organizations
Are Russia really operating separately from the CIA?
I dont know about that, i was brainwashed by the cold war, i told Russia enemies
We are indoctrinated to believe that
Lets say we have one world government, no we no enemies no one to kill anymore, US economy based on war machine, they will create wars to keep people employed
JFK was about to spill the beans about mind control weapons, got assassinated by manchurian programmed assassin, so it gets very deep
How the CIA kept this secret, by dumbing down population, creating alien abductions
They are using technologies to dumb people down, general media also dumbing people down
Brutal experiments are performed
Like voice complements them all the time, combining 4 or 5 minds together, brain nets, how firewall human mind, the mind has no firewall, we didnt evolve that
They want thought filters so you cant have that thought

When you think that, it decreases the signal
They are increasing intelligence as well,
You can make them angry, like an idiot, insert thoughts, this is overt targets
Dream programming affects conscious thought, taking away autonomy of thought and decision-making
Doesnt like free will term but degrees of autonomy
I worked with the most brillant scientists in the world, most were morally flexible, they dont care about ethics
US gov turning to pre-crime, seeing to moments of rage, then arrest them and thats why we might need to mind read everyone
It's still being rolled out
They got 80% in their database of minds, they still want to get mental info from the misfits, intelligent people, people who they cant model easily, into their basic model, studying those to add to their probability models
He knows high level FBI, former FBI, retired, 25 years of service, they said their agencies are corrupt, FISA courts show FBI faking stuff to have false surveillance on people
The highest level of criminal justice has failed this country, then there's no hope for legitimate government, i deluded myself they are the good guys
How they kept it secret for so long, they didnt, they hidden it in plain view, in almost every movie in Hollywood, thats their way of saving thats SF for the public or get public used to the concept
They are revealing it all, but people have no idea
Middle america trapped in an info bubble, you need travel the world to get more POV, because your gov isnt what you think it is
This way we can control leaders of the world, and get their secrets, without them knowing it, that power is corruptible
Technology basically overthrow democracy, freedom
MEDUSA weaponized version of microwave waves into the inner ear, causing vibrations of the bones
LRAD
Super secret one: train two brains, synchronize them by the microwave effect, correlate their brain waves and bidirectional feedback
Lets say im man in middle deciphering whos the spies, im picking up radio frequencies energies, i cant decipher what they mean to your brain
Perfect spy tool, takes alot of time to develop it, 3 mths to a year to develop it, some people doesnt work on, called encrypted speech, he has simulation with neural networks shows how it works, leads to synthetic telepathy, all the emotions can be controlled, touch taste sound induced and recorded as brain signatures and realigned them for a central experience later
If i was a billionaire, i can copy the brain waves unto another body
https://youtu.be/MNuNs6RsRdU?t=2856
Transhumanists are drinking blood of babies, yea you know they are doing it
Clone brain waves unto clone of soldier
95% of world is religious, taking away free will, and justice relies on free will, so society is anarchy if they know we are doing this for so long
They are keeping the darkest part secret
Dr Ewen Cameron, president of psychiatric worldwide community was brainwashing, programming, psychic driving, still using this technique on TIs, using chatter bots, instead of tapes to break them down
CIA likes to take down other countries
Senators controlled by Pentagon, bribed by contract companies, passed laws from 2000s to pass laws on US citizens and counter-intelligence, support groups, paid agents to disrupt the conversation
US gov is really evil, like James Bond villians
Gone for so long, and ive noticed
Media has got a hold on what goes through
Pentagon said, if over 6% of population can be jailed/kidnapped, but otherwise everyone will bring down the gov
These people can be convinced because they are brainwashed with false patriotism and radicalism
It's a small table, like the round table of the Illumanti
If you can purify yourself from the 7 deadly sin, they can control you, there is truth to that Bioethics, i'm glad, i'm expecting 20 years
Dr. Giodarno, military neuroethics runs ethic department in Georgetown uni, there's a conflict of interest, there will be other leaders that might be more believable, everything he said he is right and good

He exposed alot of these technologies, he's putting the information in plain sight, inevitably, we are going to use it
When whole public understands all these technology, everyone will have accelerated education and dont have to waste millions of dollars and 30 years, maybe society will agree to the good things, and individually join the hive minds

US Secret Weapon Used in Venezuela?

https://youtu.be/KuXBrziWDCg?t=117

A high powered microwave device was used to disable Venezuelan soldier

I highly suggest the world construct a superintelligent chip capable of giving perfect memory to normal humans and extreme intellect by identifying the brain connections of such individuals via various mind reading devices, e.g. MRI, etc. Then connecting nanowires to rodents or monkeys to see how effective each combination are to each area, e.g. parietal lobe to the visual cortex. Then if the connections are effective at inputting the visual memories into the neocortex, one can achieve perfect visual memory or high visual memory, while moving at information at near the speed of light. The main reason people are deceived presently and only scholars within the universities or making journals are able to find these "holes" within the constitutional system of such "democracies" is because they have spent time gathering much data in their books such as for inverted totalitarianism, and the power elite by Mills, and even the Howard Zinn's the people history of the US, showing that elites have been in control of elections for a certain period of US history till today.

I suggest using AGI to create ASI, by forming a coalition of people to build ASI using AGI's tips on how to get the infrastructure, programming, and so on.

These elites are extremely intelligent, and the intelligence is self-recursively improving as for example, an AI talking with AI, and asking what errors can you detect in me, how can i improve, so its like a "hive mind" of many ASIs talking to each other and self improving on certain goals. They are at this point possibly at a superintelligence explosion that is controlled

They have control over all major information channels by being able to put subtle hidden-in-plain sight references to make people's lives into a literal Truman show hell. Meaning, almost all the major celebrities, CEOs, musicians, newcasters, youtubers, and such media outlets giving you information will be controlled by this deep state that controls the whole world via a coalition of many countries that includes US, NATO, and their allies, and after defeating Putin, Xi Jinping and North Korea, they have allied or absorbed them into their coalition so all countries are now working together to ensure the Cold War is ended and there is no overt totalitarian takeover, only something academics call inverted totalitarianism.

Meaning the advertising system, media, and gangstalking actors, are able to be manipulated around your life make you live in fear and ultimately they want you dead like Robert Duncan.

A plan to build ASI or superintelligence brain implants

> uys, if we build AGI, then use AGi to build ASI, whats the possibility for humanity using brain computer implants and all the data we can sift through in seconds and all the politics involved and the scandals and the neuroweapons presently used against Venezeulan soldiers and others, you think ASI can reverse engineer all these tech?
> i think the issue is connecting nanowires from different brain areas to create very perfect connections to replace all the bad connections we normal humans uusally have, and imagine they move at the speed of light vs 200 m/s. We already have Einstein, Karl Gauss (yes, the most brillant mathematician of all human history)'s brain, and we scanned Kim Peek's brain with NASA in 2000s, that guy could memorize 20,000 books with 90+% accuracy and rattle of any fact in seconds from any book. So if we connect say the visual cortex with nanowires using a surgical robot by connecting the nerve endings to the respective neocortex areas, that would be a feasible way to start finding how to give normal people photographic memories

ASI is another route, or AGI first (within the next 10 years if trends are going right), then we build more accurate brain readers and scanners then we get the highly intelligent people and people with autistic savant abilities and we find the brain nerve connections and replicate them in normal human subjects, possibly monkeys first, then once the monkeys show extreme memory abilities and extreme intellect, through trial and error, we can try the first few human subjects if they want this needs AGI, brain scanners, neuroscientists, biophysicists, AI coders, psychologists, material scientists, and so on, working together, with the infrastructure to create experimental rooms for such experiments to occur, but given the likelihood China has a totalitarian elite that needs to control their population before their population can rebel against them, they need the head start as it were to build such technologies, that is why Hugo De Gratis and all these brain projects were made in the 2010s or so to totally map the brain, but the end "fruits" aren't publicly available yet in China. China is just one country among many with an elite-normal population inequality situation.

well they cracked Erods level problems with expert mathematicians, that withina several to a few year period, solving 10 or more within such a short span of time. It would take a professional mathematician like Terence Tao, years and collobrative work to solve even 2.
Clearly in the mathematical and coding realm it's reaching beyond expert levels its the self-recursive and evolutionary algorithm that seem to have a big potential in creating even more optimized code and then more data fed into the database to get even better solutions. Then working with science, how does that work towards finding the right brain scanners to be more accurate to find the right brain connections between say the visual cortex to the hippocampus, replace the biological nerves with nanowires and create a speed of light perfect connection between the areas giving the hippocampal regions perfect connections to access the information from the visual cortex so what the person sees is literally going straight to the visual cortex processing, then has a clean almost speed of light connection to the relevant nerve endings or networks within the hippocampal region of the brains, then possibly more nanowires for the migration of the short-term visual memories to become long-term term by transferring them to the distrbuted network on the cortex via such nanowires from the hippocampal regions to the neocortex areas
